

INAUGURAL 2011 CLYLP INTERNS

Lauren Greenwood
B.A. Economics
California State University, Sacramento
CLYLP Sacramento Leadership Conference 2007

"As alumni, we have a responsibility to give back to an organization that invested so deeply in us, and I think interning for CLYLP is a fantastic way to do that."

Lauren Greenwood joined the internship program in 2011 because it helped to cultivate California's future leaders by instilling community, culture and empowerment in the youth of today. Her main responsibilities were organizing applications as reading chair, making photocopies, reading applications, completing data entry, and assisting in conducting interviews of CLYLP participants during the week of the conference. Her favorite project was working with the reading committee as it gave her a firsthand look at what it takes to put on the conference.

Frania Mendoza
Anthropology & Political Science
UCLA
CLYLP Sacramento Leadership Conference 2008

"I would definitely encourage alumni to apply because it allows you to continue staying connected with the program from anywhere in the country, and makes you appreciate the hard work that CLYLP staff put on throughout the year to make the program the success that it has become."

Frania Mendoza became an intern because she enjoyed seeing the program come alive as one is previewed to a great deal of behind the scenes work. In addition to this it provided many resources and she felt that becoming an intern was a way to show her appreciation. Her responsibilities consisted of making the high school master list more accessible electronically, creating and developing ideas for fundraising and helped kick off conversation about creating a CLYLP store. Her favorite project was interviewing Alumni as she was able to hear many different stories of success and inspiration.